Research:

These are some of the research projects we worked on while in London:

Hampton Court Palace was one of my favorite places because the tour guides really made the history come alive and the gardens were exactly as they are described in the guidebook. However, my favorite part of the tour was seeing the rooms where King William and Queen Mary got married. It was interesting to see the different styles of architecture and see how they have evolved over time. The room where they got married was quite small, but it was beautifully decorated. I learned that King William was twenty-six and Mary was only fourteen when they got married. She cried in the church. They were married in the Chapel Royal, St. James's Palace.
